Few Prosperity Certificates Here

Volume Not Sufficient to Cause Difficulty to Merchants in Coleman—Retailers in Other Towns Find Some Refuse Them

Locally there does not appear to have been more than possibly a hundred dollars worth of Prosperity certificates tendered in payment of goods. This is accounted for by there having been no provincial relief work done here. One merchant reported he had taken in about $30, $20 of which he sent to a wholesaler, the rest he will use to pay his sales tax. Another merchant reported he had taken in some, and in trying to keep them in circulation, he found some declined to accept them in change, while others voiced no objection.

At Bellevue a retailer stated he had about $50 on hand, which he could not get people to accept in change, even some who signed the covenants promising to co-operate in the Social Credit program. He intended to send them in to cover his sales tax.

Another large retailer of the district stated he had about $1500 on hand, which he sent in for redemption, but at time of The Journal's enquiry he had not then received his return on same. They had cost him about $50 in stamps, but even with this added cost, he believed the certificates were to be preferred to relief slips, as those who were paid in certificates could purchase just what they pleased in the way of necessities.

It is uncertain if the circulation of these certificates will be continued. The placing of a one cent stamp on them each week is a feature which is disliked, besides which it is reported the stamps fall off as the bills become worn. One report stated that no more would be issued by the provincial government, but they would re-issue those which they redeemed.

There is but one rule of conduct for a man—to do the right thing. The cost may be dear in money, in friends, in influence, in labor, or in a prolonged and painful sacrifice. But the cost not to do right is far more dear, for you pay in the integrity of your manhood, in character, in honor, and in truth. You forfeit your soul's content, and for a timely gain you barter infirmities.—Alger.

Lethbridge To Have Real Team

Reports indicate that Lethbridge will get a break in their hockey enjoyment this season. Herman Thole, young Milk River merchant, has taken over the management of the arena and will also manage the Lethbridge senior sextet. The Herald states that Mr. Thole will have a new group of players and it is not likely that any more than three players who played for Lethbridge last year will hold their positions.

Lethbridge is undoubtedly "hockey mad" as was seen when its team reached the provincial finals two seasons ago and also when they packed the arena on two occasions, 2200 strong, when the Canadians played there last year. The Pass wishes Lethbridge the best of luck in its bid for a championship team.

Premier's Threat to Newspapers

Angered Over Lack of Support of His Theories He Seizes on News Story, Terming it Insult to Himself

Some daily newspapers last week-end carried a short story of a Mr. Tall, recently appointed trade commissioner in Montreal for the province, being on the same train returning last summer from Vancouver as was Premier Aberhart, neither of whom then knew each other. The story alleges that Premier Aberhart, being unable to secure a lower berth through an error in booking, protested so audibly that Mr. Tall, resting in a lower berth, gave up his berth, and himself took the upper. Most people read the story and the impression was that it was a very nice gesture on the part of Mr. Tall.

On Sunday afternoon the premier in his weekly broadcast flew into a tantrum and bellowed that the premier of the province was being insulted by stories such as this, and instead of freedom on the part of the press it was licence which would not be tolerated, and that "something should be done to curb the mad-dog operations of certain of the financial newspapers."

Another item complained of was to the effect that the school trustees at Peace River would not grant a holiday to welcome him on his recent tour in the north of the province. This he stated was untrue, and he vented his anger to the point of frenzy in denunciation of the Press. The premier's outburst showed a lack of dignity in making such an uproar over incidents which would have passed almost unnoticed by the average person. It also indicates his trend of mind as to what he would do with all who oppose him if he had the power. Mr. Aberhart is un-British in his conduct, in his radio talks and in his conduct of governmental business. Even a premier cannot get away with such statements without the severest censure.

Coleman And Trail Tie 4-4

Trail juniors held the local senior eleven to a 4-4 tie here on Tuesday night before a small crowd of fans. The game was marred in the opening minutes when Jimmy Joyce, in an effort to kick the ball, overextended and came in contact with a rock on the ground and opening a large gash around his knee cap requiring nine stitches to close.

The juniors proved themselves master opportunists and had a three goal lead till within a minute of the first half when Hastings headed through for Coleman's first goal. M. Kearns, Smith, and Hughes were the Trail marksmen. The second half was barely underway when M. Kearns scored. Hastings again scored to put Coleman in the game and crept closer when Moore scored on a penalty kick. Anderson equalized with "only four minutes to go to give Coleman a hard earned draw.

Trail, on Monday defeated a Michel team 5-0 and met Fernie on Wednesday. The oldest member is 21 years of age.

Musical Festival Executive Meet

Mr. Barford of Edmonton Appointed Adjudicator for Annual Festival Nov. 3-4-5.

Present at the meeting in the Greenhill hotel on Wednesday evening were J. E. Upton, president; Dr. Rose, J. A. Kerr, William Kerr, Ed. Royle, Miss Mae Powell, H. T. Halliwell, W. J. Moffat, Miss Madeleine Chardon, W. H. Moser, W. H. Chappell and Mrs. W. H. Farmer, secretary.

Having received an eastern appointment, Mr. Veary, of Moose Jaw, who was appointed adjudicator earlier in the year, notified the committee he would be unable to come west. Consequently Mr. Vernon Barford, of Edmonton, who in 1927 was one of the adjudicators, was communicated with by long distance telephone and he consented to take the position.

The finance committee will interview civic bodies, fraternal organizations and business men of the Pass towns, to solicit donations for the festival. Various details pertaining to festival arrangements were discussed, and the program committee was authorized to attend to them. The final general meeting of committees prior to the festival will be held in the Greenhill hotel on Monday, Oct. 5 at 8 p.m.

Equitability In Debt Adjustment

With governments, boards of adjudication and arbitration organizations innumerable all imbued with different ideas on the subject, the process of deftly adjusting the accumulated indebtedness of farmers in the prairie provinces, generally referred to as debt adjustment, is an exceedingly complicated problem.

It is not rendered any the less so because the problem is being dealt with by a multiplicity of tribunals with varying degrees of authority and some with none at all, and in view of the fact that the human element is a very important factor in straightening out the tangled affairs of the debtors on a reasonable basis and at the same time to the satisfaction of both parties to amended contracts.

The large number of debtors involved, the wide variations in the nature and terms of the agreements from which some easement is sought, the great spread in circumstances and conditions under which the debtors have been and still are operating, the wide range in the capacity and ability of the land to produce, as well as other factors, conspire to prevent the placing of debt adjustment on a mathematically scientific basis and for this reason, decisions of tribunals and new agreements made on a voluntary basis may not always appear on the face of them, to be equitable when compared with other decrees and other agreements.

Where voluntary adjustments are made by mutual consent of debtor and creditor, either directly or through the mediation of a body, the question of equitability is not an important consideration. So long as the two parties involved can reach a decision satisfactory to both, the terms are of no concern to any other person.

But where the terms of a new agreement are imposed on debtor and creditor by a tribunal armed with enforcement authority, the question assumes a different complexion. Under such circumstances, while as stated at the outset, agreements cannot be made to comply with any rigid mathematical formulae for the reasons sets forth, every effort should be made to establish fundamental principles and policies which will ensure the nearest possible approximation to equitability.

Some, perhaps all of the boards operating in the three provinces have already enunciated principles trending in this direction to which they are prepared to adhere as closely as circumstances permit. They have announced that the chief objective of their decisions is to keep the farmer on the land and enable him to carry on. From this it follows that new contracts authorized must comprise terms within the capacity and ability of the farmer-debtor to comply. At the same time they must be fair and reasonable from the creditors' viewpoint, if for no other reason, for the sake of availability of future credit.

The Federal Board of Review in Saskatchewan, however, has gone even further than enunciating the general principles outlined above. In a recent announcement the board declared that after the total amount of real estate mortgage indebtedness to be repaid has been determined, new agreements will cover a ten year period, providing for repayment of principal sums in ascending scale, the agreement to bear a maximum interest rate of six per cent with provision for suspension of payment in years of crop failure. Fairly specific policies, with reservation for variation under special circumstances, were also announced with respect to other forms of indebtedness.

Whether or not the precise terms outlined meet general approval, the effort to provide for some measure of uniformity of general debt adjustment provisions is a step in the right direction and should similar policies be adopted by the boards in the provinces of Alberta and Manitoba, as is intimated they are likely to do, further step forward in the direction of equitability will have been made.

Recently the United Farmers of Canada suggested that some provision should be made for appeal from decisions of the Boards of Review but if the general principles and policies which have been promulgated, at least by the Board in Saskatchewan, are followed as closely as varying circumstances permit, it is reasonable to assume that requests for the right of appeal will presently be few.

If a generally satisfactory degree of equitability can be made effective in decrees of the respective boards and if debtor and creditor will approach negotiations under voluntary mediation in a spirit of reasonableness much of the difficulty of debt adjustment will automatically be dispensed and what is now a complicated problem will be materially simplified and costs of the undertaking much reduced.

Has Made Last Attempt

Hugh Rutledge Gives Up Idea of Scaling Mount Everest

Hugh Rutledge, leader of the 1936 Mount Everest expedition, which was beaten by bad weather, says he has made his last attempt to scale the world's highest peak.

In future he will live in a yacht with Brixham, Devon, as his base, and will be satisfied with climbing smaller mountains.

He outlined these plans when he arrived at Plymouth from India.

"We saw Mount Everest at its worst," he said, "we reached a height of 20,000 feet, but never had a chance because the monsoon broke earlier than ever before."

Mr. Rutledge believes that Everest will be climbed one day.

"There will be no difficulty in obtaining permission for another expedition," he said, "the old objection on religious grounds by the Tibetan government has vanished. We were entertained most hospitably at a monastery 16 miles from our base camp."

"The 300 monks there offered prayers for our success, and blessed us on the eve of our departure."

"Strange beliefs still exist, however. For instance, it is believed that moving a stone means the release of an evil spirit, and we had some difficulty when we wanted to remove boulders from our path at the beginning of the ascent."

Mr. Rutledge added, "I shall never climb Everest. At 51 I am too old. I shall still climb smaller peaks, and they are often harder than the biggest mountains."

Purchase Canadian Seed Grain

Russian Representative Here To Secure Rust-Resistant Grain

Best new type of Canadian wheat, chosen for their rust-resistant and good hard milling qualities, which were bought in experimental quantities as seed for potential widespread planting in the Soviet Union, it was announced at Edmonton by A. S. Essipov, top executive in charge of grain exportation for the entire U.S.S.R.

Mr. Essipov, whose headquarters in Moscow, came to Edmonton to confer with Dr. K. W. Neathby, professor of the fields crops division of the University of Alberta, to arrange for purchase of good seed grain and to study the activities of several leading seed growers in the Edmonton district.

Mr. Essipov, whose portfolio is "chief of the state plant-breeding fund of the Soviet people's commissariat of agriculture," declared that the Soviet is definitely not in the export market in competition with Canada as far as grain is concerned.

He would like to see trade relations with Canada re-established, he said, and he hoped that the recent Moscow visit of Hon. W. D. Euler, federal minister of trade and commerce, may lead to a resumption of the Soviet-Canadian trade which was stopped by the Dominion a few years ago.

Gang Warfare

Gangsters Cause Trouble For Police In London And Glasgow

In London and Glasgow alike war has been declared on gangsters. Two men lay in Balham hospital. They had been slashed by razors in a gang fight. Police circulated a message asking for news of the gang whose activities have been worrying authorities for some time past.

Glasgow magistrates have decided to "exercise their powers to the full extent" to stamp out the city's armed gangs. The chief constable and a special committee reported that gang warfare had spread to such an extent in the east end of Glasgow as to "create considerable anxiety in the minds of the public."

Japanese Were Offended

Exhibit Of Art Objects Carried Design Like Imperial Crest

Because several foreign art objects contained decorative motifs which resembled the Japanese Imperial crest, they were ordered withdrawn by the police from an exhibition in Nihonbashi, Japan. The design is reported to be similar to the chrysanthemum which appears on the crest. Included were an Italian cake tray, a French stein, a set of hair ornaments and a Japanese ink set. The owners of the objects and interested Japanese were summoned to the police station and compelled to sign an abject apology.

Forecasts Increase In Gold

Minister Of Mines Urges Help For Engineering Students

Expressing confidence that Canada would produce $135,000,000 worth of gold this year, Hon. T. A. Crerar, Minister of Mines and Natural Resources, told the Board of Trade at Timmins, Ont., that no increase in the taxes on the mining industry would be levied "at least during the lifetime of the present government."

The minister urged the big mining companies which were represented by their chief executives at the meeting to endow scholarships in Canadian Universities for students taking mining engineering courses. It would direct the attention of the people of Canada to the importance of the mining industry and encourage the young men to take up the study of mining. For one scholarship, he suggested that the winner be given a year in the ore laboratory of the Mines Department at Ottawa.

Last year Canadian mines produced $116,000,000 worth of gold but this year the production looked as if it would reach $135,000,000, and Mr. Crerar prophesied that in five years it would reach $250,000,000.

Adventurers Saved

Waged Battle Against Snow In Himalayan Mountains

Five men, including Pasha Elshie of the Survey of India, were carried into Mussoorie, all suffering badly from exposure and frost bite, after being marooned for seven days near the famous Gangotri glacier, India, at a height of 18,000 feet.

The party, counting on the fine weather, had sent back their coolies ten miles to bring up rations and fuel. During their absence, the weather suddenly changed. The monsoon, which is exceptionally violent this year, penetrated the main Himalayan range and, for two nights in succession eight feet of snow fell on the survivors' camp.

The supply coolies failed to return. After two days the party had no more fuel left—they had burned even their tent pegs—and had run short of food.

They had no alternative but to try to cut their way out. For three days they battled against the snow, which was so soft that they sank in it up to their necks and could only make progress by crawling on their hands and knees and by tunnelling.

Then the rescue party arrived and they were helped and carried down the remaining three miles to camp and, after a few days' rest were subsequently taken in to Mussoorie for treatment. All of them were making good progress and should recover completely.

Deserted Town

Baron Tweedsmuir And Party Pay Visit To Banckhead

A Rocky Mountain ghost town, Banckhead, above which towers the 10,000-foot peak of Cascade mountain, was visited recently by Canada's governor-general, Baron Tweedsmuir and Lady Tweedsmuir.

In the once prosperous town deserted by the years ago by its inhabitants when work in a mine, its chief source of industry, was halted, stands a lone cenotaph, to commemorate the miners' war dead. There the governor-general stood in silent prayer after placing a wreath in tribute to the warriors. Only a few persons witnessed the ceremony.

Paying tribute to the part played by Canadian soldiers in the Great War, Baron Tweedsmuir warned that Canada must still fight for her place among the nations of the world.

To the Banckhead school children who he visited, he said: "Think of your king not only as your king but also as your neighbor."

Eighty-Seven-Year-Old Man Exhibits Exquisite Work

One of the most enthusiastic needleworkers who visited the Women's Building at the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto, was Thomas W. Willoughby, formerly of Burlington, and now of Newmarket, according to a report from the Women's Building.

He announced his age to be 87, and after showing a practically diamond right hand, opened a box of fine linen embroidered in silks with shaded colors.

"I do this to fill in my time; to cure loneliness," said Mr. Willoughby. "But I want you ladies to understand that I had never had a needle in my hands until a few years ago. Of course, as a boy, I used to hook rugs, but this is different."

Mr. Willoughby's exhibit received a special display in the building. He did not enter it for competition.

Little Things Count

Springs are little things, but they are sources of large streams; a helm is a little thing, but it governs the course of a ship; a bridge-bit is a little thing, but see its use and power; nails and pegs are little things, but they hold the large parts of buildings together; a word, a look, a frown—are all little things, but powerful for good or evil. Russia To Ship Anthracite Coal To Canadian Firms

Ttaw.—Canada and Russia having resumed normal trade relations, Russian anthracite coal will again come into Canada, subject to certain restrictions.

Hon. W. D. Euler, minister of trade and commerce, recently returned from a trade mission to Russia, announced the official Russian news agency had issued a statement giving the terms under which Russian anthracite will be exported to Canada.

Not more than 250,000 metric tons (2,204 pounds to the ton) will be expected to Canada in a single year.

Anthracite coal from Russia will be sold at prices corresponding to competitive prices of the same product from other countries, having due regard to the quality of the product.

Russia has no intention of shipping coal for consumption in the maritime provinces.

It is the intention of Russia to ship to Canada the larger sizes of anthracite stone, egg and cobbles and also a certain percentage of buckwheat. Coal will not be sold through the medium of one distributor for the whole of Canada, but contracts will be entered into with several Canadian firms.

"The statement indicates that the Russian authorities will limit the shipments of anthracite coal to Canada in any one calendar year to the maximum amount of 250,000 metric tons," trade officials here said.

"Before the embargo was imposed by the former government in Feb., 1931, the Russian coal export organization had a contract with their Canadian distributor whereby shipments of Russian anthracite coal to Canada would increase each year until in 1933 and 1934 they would have a figure greatly in excess of the above maximum. Actual imports of Russian anthracite coal in the fiscal year ended March 31, 1931, amounted to 284,721 short tons."

Wheat Crop Estimate

Ottawa.—The wheat production of Canada for 1936 is estimated at 232,973,000 bushels in a crop report issued by the Dominion bureau of statistics. Of this amount 229,993,700 bushels in spring wheat, and 12,979,300 bushels of fall wheat. The spring wheat crop of the prairie provinces is estimated at 216,000,000 bushels.

Support For Spain's Leftist Government From Labor Congress

Montreal.—Support for Spain's left wing government and hope for an early and victorious finish to its fight with rightist rebels was unanimously voted by the annual convention of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada.

Without debate and in the space of a minute the delegates, representing labor unions in all parts of Canada, put themselves on record as declaring the rebellion was against the best interests of the working classes and a violation of the true spirit of democracy.

The resolution of sympathy with the Spanish government was brought in by John Bruce of Toronto who had to obtain unanimous consent of the convention as rules provide that all such motions must be submitted 20 days before the convention. The consent was given and without ado the motion was unanimously passed.

Gus Franz of Montreal held up proceedings a bit by demanding a French translation. He was told to "come to the platform and translate it himself. He objected he was not an official translator but came forward and read out the resolution in French. Then came the vote.

The resolution follows: "Whereas a state of civil war exists in Spain in which all the horrors of war are existing with tragic consequences to the whole population;

"And whereas the people of Spain by democratic methods have elected a government of workers with a well-

South Africa Party Leader Leaves Banquet In Protest

Capetown.—A toast to King Edward VIII as "King of South Africa" caused Lieut.-Col. C. F. Stallard, leader of the Dominion party in the house of assembly, to walk out of a government banquet at Johannesburg.

The loyal toast was given twice first to the king of the United Kingdom and Ireland, then to the king of South Africa. Stallard left the hall as a protest against the second toast.

Stallard said afterward he considered the fact the king was singled out as king of the Union of South Africa for a separate toast was "a specific division of the sovereign" and deliberately emphasized a doctrine against which he has always protested.

Commenting on the affair the Argus said: "The official explanation that the toast list was arranged in accordance with the usual practice of international etiquette does nothing to remove the absurdity. It shows the external affairs office is not equal to the task of preserving the individuality of the king."

Will Keep Colonies

France Refuses To Yield To Menace Of Germany

Paris.—Informed sources said that France, and the Cameroons (Kamerun), would refuse to yield their share in Africa under the menace of the growing German army.

Officials previously had taken the attitude that France would keep Togo and the Cameroons (Kamerun), mandated jointly to France and Great Britain, at any price. But there was no immediate official comment on Hitler's proclamation.

Le Temps, well-informed Paris newspaper, said, however, of the German colonial question: "No people will refuse to discuss a just and equitable organization of the European community on an equal footing with the German people. But no nation, even the weakest, will consent to how before a peace imposed by German force."

More Wheat Marketed

Ottawa.—Marketings of wheat in the prairie provinces during the week ended August 28 amounted to 15,318,883 bushels, an increase of 4,326,071 over the previous week, the Dominion bureau of statistics reported. In the corresponding week last year receipts totalled 4,802,509 bushels.

Official Delegates To League

Three Who Are Responsible For Government Going To Geneva

Ottawa.—Prime Minister Mackenzie King, Hon. Raoul Dandurand, government leader in the senate, and Labor Minister Norman Rogers will be Canada's official delegates to the forthcoming session of the League of Nations. Dr. O. D. Skelton, under-secretary for external affairs, and Dr. W. A. Riddell, permanent advisory officer at Geneva, will be alternate delegates.

In making this announcement the prime minister said that because of the importance of this league session, and the great responsibility attaching to anything that may be said there, he had decided against having any delegates other than those responsible for the government or its administration.

Col. G. P. Vanier, a member of the staff of the Canadian high commissioner in London, will accompany the party to Geneva as expert adviser.

Senator Dandurand will bring to the delegation a wealth of experience in league affairs, having attended many sessions, served a term as president, and always maintaining a strong personal interest whether serving in an official capacity or private observer.

Labor Minister Rogers, one of the youngest men in the government, has been a student of League of Nations developments and was selected particularly, the prime minister said, because of the government's desire to have the sentiment of the younger generation represented.

The prime minister himself, Dr. Skelton, Dr. Riddell and Col. Vanier have attended many sessions of the league.

Radio Corporation

Leonard Brockington, Of Winnipeg, Appointed Chairman Of Board

Ottawa.—The board of governors for the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, announced by Prime Minister Mackenzie King, follow:

Leonard W. Brockington, barrister, Winnipeg, to be chairman; Rene Morin, directeur generale du Trust Generale du Canada, Montreal, to be vice-chairman; Brig.-Gen. Victor W. Odium, broker, Vancouver; J. Wilfrid Godfrey, barrister, Halifax; Professor A. Vachon, Laval University, Quebec; N. L. Nathanson, president of Famous Players Corporation of Canada, Ltd., Toronto; Colonel Wilfrid Bovey, barrister and educator, Montreal; Alan B. Plaunt, journalist, Toronto, and Mrs. Nellie McClung, Canadian author, Victoria.

The new board of governors will recommend to the government its choice for general manager and assistant general manager. The appointments will be made before Nov. 2, it is understood.

Reward For Honesty

Scottish Court Sets It At Five Per Cent. Per Pound

Glasgow.—The reward of honesty was set by a Scottish court at five per cent.

Mrs. R. Lynn of Glasgow found two £20 notes (£100 each) on Argyle street in Dunoon. The money was claimed by Miss Alexandra Cameron of Dunoon, who offered a reward of s. shilling a pound.

The finder asked two shillings.

The question was referred to police court, which allowed a shilling a pound (five per cent.).

HUNGARY HONOURS AMERICAN GENERAL

The unveiling of the memorial erected to General Harry Hill Bandholtz, member of the International Military Commission in 1919, by the Hungarian Government. The General earned the gratitude of the Hungarian people, when, armed with only a riding whip, he frustrated an attempt of Roumanian soldiers to despoil the Hungarian National Museum of some of its outstanding treasures.

Churchill Busy Port

Grain Ship From France Makes Second Trip

Churchill, Man.—The motorship Jean L. D., owned by Louis Dreyfus and Company, docked here on her second visit of the season after making the voyage from France in less than nine days, her average speed being more than 14 knots an hour.

The vessel sailed from here on her first voyage Aug. 22, carrying 322,000 bushels of wheat. At that time it was believed the vessel, one of the fastest and newest ships in the grain trade, could make three round trips between this port and Europe during the open season.

On her way here, the ship carried fuel oil for the Canadian government patrol boat, S.S. N. B. McLean, and the oil was transferred to the latter craft at Wakeham bay.

The Jean L. D. was loading some 370,000 bushels of number one northern wheat for Liverpool delivery.

S.S. Willowpool sailed with 300,000 bushels of wheat for Queenstown. S.S. Brandon is loaded and will sail with 325,000 bushels of wheat for Queenstown. S.S. Troutpool was expected to dock the following day, while S.S. Drakepool is partly loaded and is at anchor awaiting sailing instructions.

Ship Horses To Scotland

Shipment Of 84 Horses From Montreal Bring High Prices

Ottawa.—Canadian horse breeders are shipping Clydesdales back to Scotland. The Canadian progeny of the famous Scottish breed of draft horses brought substantial prices when sold at Perth, Scotland, recently, according to a statement issued by the Dominion department of agriculture.

Horse dealers in Scotland spoke highly of the entire contingent of 84 heavy horses which were shipped from Montreal in July. The top prices were $440, $435, $410 and $400, most for Clydesdales. The average price was about $315.

The department also announced the Canadian animal products trade commissioner in London had written a well known British buyer of horses to be sent to Canada this month to buy heavy work horses for shipment to the United Kingdom.

Steps Taken In Partial Nationalization Of Bank Of Canada

Plans For Unemployed

Governments May Pay Single Men For Farm Work

Ottawa.—Farmers and those engaged in other primary industries may be in the position next winter of being provided with labor at the cost of board and lodgings alone, or possibly without even that expense. This was made known in the government's announcement of plans to care for single, homeless unemployed adults.

In co-operation with the provinces the government proposes to pay half the cost "of such plans as can be worked out in conjunction with the provinces for the purpose of absorbing in primary product industries all physically fit, single homeless adults."

The proposals, as explained by Hon. Norman Rogers, minister of labor, and A. B. Purvis, chairman of the national commission on employment and relief, involves placement of such men on farms, forestry projects and other industries with the Dominion and the province concerned sharing equally in assuring the man a wage reasonably approaching that paid ordinarily for the same class of labor in the same area.

Harbors Board Appointed

Members Will Have Jurisdiction Over Principal Canadian Ports

Ottawa.—Completing a move initiated soon after taking office last October, the government appointed a permanent national harbors board which will have jurisdiction over principal Canadian ports in place of the individual harbor commissions formerly existing.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King announced that Ralph Campbell, one-time chief of his own secretariat staff and now a lawyer in Vancouver, has been named chairman of the board. Col. A. E. Dubuc, chief engineer of the department of railways and canals, and B. J. Roberts, assistant deputy minister of finance, were named members of the three-man board.

New Lieutenant-Governors

Appointments Are Made For Saskatchewan And Alberta

Ottawa.—New lieutenant-governors for Alberta and Saskatchewan were named by order-in-council, the appointments being necessary by expiration of the terms of present incumbents, both of whom have served beyond their statutory limits.

In Alberta, Lieut.-Col. Philip C. H. Primrose, a native of Picton, N.S., was named to succeed Hon. William L. Walsh, who was appointed May 5, 1931. In Saskatchewan the appointee is Archibald P. McNab, Regina, who succeeds Lieut.-Col. H. E. Munroe, appointed March 31, 1930. Both new appointments are effective as from October 1.

Directors Appointed For Future Control Of C.N.R. System

Ottawa.—Six of the seven directors who will in future control the Canadian National Railways system were announced by Prime Minister Mackenzie King at the conclusion of a cabinet council. The seventh, who will be a representative of labor, will be chosen by agreement between the railway workers acting through their various unions.

Legislation authorizing restoration of the director system will be proclaimed Oct. 1, when the new board will take over. In the meantime the government will reach a decision as to the status of the board of three trustees who have been administering the road since Jan. 1, 1934.

S. J. Flungerford, who worked his way up from apprentice mechanic to become head of the Canadian National system, will continue in that capacity as chairman of the new board.

Appointments for three-year periods went to Mr. Flungerford, Jas. Y. Murdoch, K.C., Toronto, president of Noranda, and a Mr. Wilfred J. G. Macdonald, Montreal manufacturer.

For the two-year period, as provided in the act, the directors will be Herbert J. Symington, K.C.,

Ottawa.—Final steps in the partial nationalization of the Bank of Canada were taken when the government acquired 100,200 class B shares and appointed six additional directors to represent those holdings, thus assuring government ownership and control. This is in accordance with legislation adopted at the last session of parliament.

In selecting the public's representatives on the board of directors the government was enabled to give representation to those provinces not already represented in the seven directors now serving.

Appointment of these additional directors, coupled with acquisition of a majority of the capital stock shares, gives the government majority ownership and majority control on the board of directors. The original share-capital was $5,000,000, divided into 100,000 shares with a par value of $50. No one person could own more than 50 shares and at the last annual meeting there were some 1,100 shareholders.

Each of the two new directors will have two votes until such time as the private ownership directors have been reduced to three. Thereafter the ratio of representation on the board will be six representing government shares to three representing private holdings. The seven private directors were appointed, two for five years, two for four years and two for three years and one for two years.

Class B shares will be held by the government and not traded in as in the case of privately-owned stock. They will draw the same dividend as class A shares in the hands of the public; but this will be only a matter of bookkeeping since the government receives all excess profits of the bank in any event.

Prince Edward Island May Take Cattle From West

Charlottetown.—Serious consideration was being given proposed importation of cattle to Prince Edward Island from the drought-suffering areas of western provinces, according to letters from Premier Campbell and Hon. W. H. Dennis, minister of agriculture, read before a meeting of the Charlottetown board of trade.

The board discussed arrangements for the annual meeting of the Maritime board of trade here, Sept. 23 and 24. Hon. C. A. Dunning, Canada's minister of finance, is to address the annual dinner.

Fire Losses In Canada

Toronto.—Fire losses in Canada for the week ending September 9 are estimated at $128,000, according to the Monetary Times. Losses for the preceding week were $172,800 and for the corresponding week last year, $97,500. Total losses thus far this year are $9,298,900, as compared with $8,433,475 in the same period last year.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

THE TOWN is "pepping up." It is high time, too! Under the present mayor and council the ratepayers have more to show for their taxes than at any time in the town's history, and without increasing the taxes. Water and light rates have been reduced by the extension of the time in which the principal of the Coleman Light & Water Co. is to be repaid.

EVENTUALLY we expect to have dustless roads throughout the town, and sidewalks which may be travelled in comfort. In the residential parts of the town you walk on gravel or cinders which is hard on the feet, unless you wear inch-thick soles. Ladies particularly would welcome a more even surface on which to walk. But these improvements will come in time, though slowly, owing to the policy of not going into debt, though some would urge that providing for necessary and worthwhile improvements justifies a reasonable amount of borrowing. However, that's the council's business, and they move no faster or slower than the wishes of the ratepayers, as a rule.

TOWN PLANNING schemes were thought of too late to make Coleman attractive. But for future guidance, it would be well to institute a system of town planning and impose certain building restrictions which would improve the general appearance of the place and make it impossible to erect a shack next to a decent looking building. Mining towns as a rule have been very careless about appearances. Coleman has the natural surroundings to give it an attractive setting, but as far as the town is concerned, in most spots it looks like Topsy, who just "grewed up." However, we are improving all the time, so encourage the good work, and extend a little praise wherever it is due.

SMALL town dwellers very easily slide into a rut. One reason of this is that life moves at a slower tempo in small towns. The necessity of being on time to catch the morning train, of keeping appointments, of attending meetings, is not so marked in small places as in larger centres of activity. Personal appearances are also given more care in cities, as witness the way the small town dweller "slicks up" when he goes to the city. That's one reason why a visit to larger centres has a beneficial psychological effect. A city dweller moving to a smaller centre will just as quickly develop small town habits as one who may have been born there. You have to be on your guard all the time against these little failings, for it is so easy to drop into a rut which eventually may become a grave as far as human progress is concerned. Some may scoff at the old rhyme, "Early to bed, early to rise," but there is a wealth of truth in it if you wish to maintain essential efficiency in this competitive world.

FROM our office window we see the teachers and the children going to school and it is interesting to notice how some are ahead of time, and others will just scurry in as the bell clangs its final stroke on opening time. It reminds us of the lines commencing with "Tardy scholar is your name, if you're scolded, who's to blame?" It just goes to show that you cannot regiment human nature. There are so many different stratas; some ambitious, some who simply don't care. And so they go on through life, some climb to the top or achieve moderate success; others just muddle along on the fringe of things.

ENQUIRY reveals that in Crows Nest Pass towns prosperity certificates are being refused by so-called Social Credit supporters. Those who refuse to accept them after voting for Social Credit are termed "hypocrites" and "traitors" by the Premier. The terms, though harsh, are not deserved, for many who favored the election of the present government did not pledge themselves to accept this form of money. Those who signed the covenants are placed in an unfavorable light by refusing them, but not more so than the government and the legislative members. For pointing out these inconsistencies on the part of the government, the Press incurs the abuse of the premier, who instead of maintaining the dignity of the office of which he is so jealous, tells the people he is being insulted by certain press despatches and works himself into a tantrum.

PEOPLE WHO work are being taxed heavily to keep those who do not. For political reasons governments have encouraged too much paternalism, until it has got to the point where it is easier to live on relief than it is to work, and instances have become known where men would throw up jobs and go on relief because it was easier. Relief work as seen in the camps was a joke. It was the most expensive type of work ever undertaken, and the cost of which is being paid by the employed. To say there is not work is an easy way out. It is the last thing that malingers want. And as long as the doctrine of cultural heritages and other high falutin terms are used to beguile the impoverished and the incapable, so long will they indulge in self-pity and sink deeper into the morass of stagnation. It reminds one of a

LITTLE THINGS

By JANE DEE

HAVE you ever realized how important the "little things," such as hats, gloves, bags, shoes, hose and jewelry, are to your outfit? Costume perfection can be achieved only by careful selection of the correct accessories, matching them where they should be matched and using just the correct touch of contrast when it is necessary.

If you are one of those smart well-dressed women who has a new Fall suit, coat or frock and is in doubt as to how it should be accessorized, why not write to the Stylist Service created for you by EATON'S and I will gladly suggest what type of accessories you should have. Just give me the color, fabric and silhouette of your costume and I will be able to tell you what kind of hat, gloves, bag, shoes and jewelry to choose.

Remember that this service is available only at EATON'S Mall Office, Winnipeg, and that I act only in an advisory capacity.

Foster-Richards Wedding

One of the prettiest weddings in recent years was held in the Anglican church on Saturday at four o'clock, when Doris Eileen, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo Richards, of Coleman, was united in marriage to Ross Foster, son of Mrs. Mary Foster, of Coleman. The groom was assisted by his twin brother, Roy, while Miss Helen Hancock acted as bridesmaid. The bride was given in marriage by her father. The church was beautifully decorated and many friends gathered to see the ceremony at which Rev. A. S. Partington officiated. During the signing of the register Mrs. Ashbridge sang "I Love You Truly."

The bride was attired in a floor length gown of white lace over satin. A simple band of orange blossoms held her veil in place. She carried a bridal bouquet of shaded pink roses.

Miss Helen Hancock, bridesmaid, wore a floor length gown of pale blue beffrilled net. Her hat was pale pink, and she carried a bouquet of pink carnations and roses. Mrs. Clifford played the wedding music.

Following the service a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents for immediate friends and relatives. The table was centred with a three-tiered cake in a bed of pink tulle and flanked with pink candles and silver sconces and tea roses in silver vases. The toast to the bride was sponsored by Rev. A. S. Partington, who also proposed the toast to the bridesmaid. Mr. McLean proposed the toast to the groom and Mr. W. H. Garner proposed the toast to the parents. The bride chose for travelling a three piece blue tweed suit with navy accessories. The young couple left later for Spokane where they will spend a short vacation, following which they will take up residence in Coleman, where Mr. Foster is employed at McGillivray mine.

Championship Young Birds Race Creates Keen Interest And Is Won By Andrew Biegun's Bird No. 238

Andrew Biegun with his youngster No. 238 makes clean sweep of final race, winning the Pattinson Cup emblematic of champion young bird for 1936, also the White Lunch Cup to be kept by winner. This bird being nominated to win this race thereby also wins the Funnigall Cup and the first prize donated by Mr. G. Kellock.

Result: 1st A. Biegun, 2nd F. Beddington, 3rd F. Eyzackers, 4th C. Makin, 5th W. Roughhead, 6th J. Hurkot.

Prizes donated by Mr. G. Kellock, C.H.S., W. Evans of Blairmore, and Modern Electric.

Trying out the West route for the first time, the young birds have had to contend with very severe conditions in every race.

Smoke from forest fires in the earlier races and in the later races heavy fogs and clouds have put the birds to a very severe test. Heavy loss of birds and a low flying velocity makes it very questionable if this route will be chosen next year.

The secretary of Cranbrook Pigeon Club writes that we are fortunate to have had any birds return from these races west as the country has been full of smoke, fog or clouds all through the young birds flying season.

He reports Cranbrook club flew the south route with very satisfactory results.

This winds up the Coleman clubs flying this year with everybody happy and looking forward to a bigger and better program in 1937.

If it is advertised in The Journal it must be O.K.

Railroad Business And Crows Nest Towns

THE IMPORTANCE of railroad traffic to Crows Nest Pass towns is overlooked by some who unconsciously or otherwise prejudice adversely their own interests. Here is an extract from the Canadian National Railway magazine which might well apply locally.

The Vermont Railway Employees' and Citizens' League has taken a step toward impressing upon merchants the importance to each community of the railroad industry. There has come to hand a pamphlet published by this organization appealing to every railroad worker in Vermont to help bring business to his railroad. It advises railroad men and their wives to "think railroad; talk railroad. Start with your home town business men. Everything that your butcher, grocer, baker, hardware man, clothier, druggist or candy-cigar store man have in stock came to them as freight. Likewise the coal and wood dealer, the lumber man, the produce and grain dealer, and the gasoline station owner, the auto, radio or refrigerator dealer—everyone in your town who has something to sell. Much of their goods are coming in on trucks. All of it ought to come in by railroad. Your job should be to see that these folks have their goods brought in by railroad."

And attached to the pamphlet is a small sticker which will probably find its way on to many bills or cheques when accounts with the different stores are being paid. It reads:

"I am able to pay you this money because the Central Vermont Railway has paid it to me for wages earned. It was paid to them for transportation of passengers and freight. If this cycle of payment is to continue you should ship and receive freight—and travel—by rail."

That is a "pocket-book argument" if ever there was such a thing.

Many at present employed here would be out of jobs, and there would be less retailers, if there were no railway business.

Trinity 15: The services next Sunday will be as follows:

11.15 a.m., morning service and sermon. Rev. W. Barlow, principal of the Peigan Indian school, will be the preacher.

12.30 p.m., Sunday school.

United Church

Thanks are extended to all who helped toward the decoration of the church for the Harvest thanksgiving services. The simple but pleasing effect was very favorably commented on.

The picnic arranged for the junior choir for last Saturday afternoon was held in the club room of the church owing to the uncertain weather. Games with refreshments topped off with ice cream made up for the disappointment at not going on a hike.

Those who have mite boxes are asked to bring them in before the end of the month so that the quarterly remittance to the central fund may be made.

Services at the usual hour on Sunday with the church school at 12.15. All interested are cordially invited.

Salvation Army

Regular services will be conducted at the Salvation Army hall during next week. Envoy Frayn of Lethbridge will address the Young People's meeting on Friday at 7.30 p.m. and will also have charge of the services on Sunday.

El Paso World News: A couple of seaweed are suggested as substitutes for spinach. It is urged in their behalf that the sand is cleaner.

WORLD HAPPENINGS BRIEFLY TOLD

An upturn in world trade in 1935, the first in any year since 1929, was reported by the League of Nations review.

The Daily Mirror says 70 brides mourned the departure of the British Mediterranean fleet from Alexandria, the port of Cairo. About half the brides are British, the others being of various nationalities.

Mrs. Margaret Louise Bishop, 79-year-old mother of Canada's premier war ace, Air Vice-Marshal William Avery Bishop, V.C., died at her home in Owen Sound, Ont., after a brief illness.

France will send no more prisoners to the French Guiana penal colonies—including the famed Devil's Island—pending action in parliament on the government's prison reform bill, it has been disclosed.

A further decrease of 38,132 in the number of unemployed, revealed in figures issued by the ministry of labor, brings the total unemployed in Great Britain down to 1,613,940, the lowest figure in six years.

A total of $50,000, including $25,000 first prize, will be offered in the automobile reliability race around Australia in 1936, if efforts of the race committee to raise funds in Sydney are successful.

Germany has placed orders for a large number of ultra-modern tanks capable of speeds of about 50 miles per hour on level ground and 30 miles per hour over rough country, the diplomatic correspondent of the Manchester Guardian said.

Harold S. Jones, Astronomer Royal of England, and H. G. Wells, the novelist, have approved the "Rational Calendar" of eight months of 30 days and four of 31, with "New Year's Eve Day," to be submitted to the League of Nations.

It was disclosed in London recently that more than 2,000 people were injured during 1935 through the opening and closing of railway train doors. In the same period 14 were killed and 1,495 injured according to board or alight from moving trains.

Valuable Metals Located

Miner At Goldfields May Produce Good Commercial Ore

Chiefly noted for gold discoveries Goldfields, Sask., mining field may produce other useful metals in commercial quantities, according to reports brought in by engineers.

Molybdenite, used for strengthening steel, has been reported. Wolframite, the ore containing tungsten, also used in tool-making and as filaments in light bulbs, has been discovered in several sections, as have nickel, lead, zinc, silver and copper.

Pitchblende, carrying radium, has also made its appearance. The field is still too new to know just how large the deposits of the various metals are and whether they can be mined at a profit.

Big Price For Sheep

Aristocratic sheep commanded record prices at the closing day of the National Wool Growers' Association's annual ram sale in Salt Lake City. James Laidlaw, of Muldoon, Idaho, paid the top price of $1,000 for a two-year-old Suffolk ram offered by the Suffolkdale Meadows Farm of Ilderton, Ont. The ram was undefeated champion of the 1935 Royal Canadian show.

Glass Experts Puzzled

Dr. John Clyde Hostetter, Corning, N.Y., glass expert, returned from a meeting of glass technologists in London with the startling news that experts are trying to decide what glass is. Dr. Hostetter directed casting of a 200-inch telescope for the California Institute of Technology.

Mines Laboratories Busy

Heavy Receipts Of Gold Ore For Testing Are Reported

Reflecting the steady and widespread improvement in mining throughout Canada, the Mines Branch Laboratory of the Canadian Department of Mines reports that receipts of gold ore for testing during the first half of the year exceeded those of any like period in past years. In the majority of cases the ores are from the many gold properties throughout Canada that are entering or nearing production. Full advantage is being taken by operators of the modern equipment ore dressing and metallurgical laboratories of the Department of Mines, where the ores are being tested mainly to determine suitable mill treatment processes for the several enterprises.

Three research projects relating to the treatment of gold ores are underway. One is on refractory gold ores such as those that occur in the Bridge River area, British Columbia. The second is an investigation to determine the relationship of the mineralization and genesis of the ores to treatment problems; and the third is an examination of the modes of occurrence of gold in sulphides, and the effect on ore treatment of such associations.

More test work is under way on ores more than in 1935, but the number of samples received is small in comparison with pre-depression years, when the high prices of the metals provided a stimulus for exploratory effort. A notable feature is the sharp increase in the number of requests for test work on non-metallic ores. The increase is traceable mainly to the distinct revival of activities in the building construction industries. Tests are being carried out of the beneficiation and uses of such minerals as china clay, silica sands and sandstones, quartzite, calcite, garnet, and mica, and on the tailings from asbestos milling plants.

French Adjudicator

Judge Of French Theatre May Preside At Drama Festival

Col. H. C. Osborne, honorary director of the Dominion drama festival, returned from Europe and said next year's adjudicator of the drama festival will be a judge of the French theatre, if present plans materialize.

"For the coming of the French theatre for the judging finals will give new ideas and a new point of view," Col. Osborne stated. "Naturally, at this early date it is impossible for me to make any definite announcement as to the individual. It is very hard for a man to say at the present time that he will be available to come to Canada late next winter, but the groundwork has been laid and I expect to make a definite announcement in the near future."

Col. Osborne also said he expected to be able to announce by the end of October who the regional adjudicators will be.

Telling Him Gently

The fat old man was in a bad temper.

"Where the dickens is the smoking-room in this place?" he shouted. The hotel porter remained calm.

"There is a door over there with 'Lounge, Gentlemen only' on it," he said. "You ignore that and walk straight in."

SPEED TRAIN LEAVING WINNIPEG

Charging into space in the straight away leaving Winnipeg, the Canadian Pacific Railway's new light-weight speed train clips into its stride of 110 miles an hour. To satisfy his artistic demands, the photographer's request for a plume of smoke was granted, although the engineer on the new "3001" takes pride in the almost smokeless performance of the streamlined beauty. The train, with company officials aboard, was beginning its exhibition tour of the prairies. By the end of September it will take over its regular daylight run between Calgary and Edmonton.

Presents Real Problem

Man Returns To Prison But Cannot Be Admitted

Authorities of Blackpool, that Lancashire resort by the Irish Sea, are baffled by the case of George Santus, a motor mechanic. Santus paid his own fare to complete a three-months' jail sentence. But prison authorities won't let him in. Santus pleaded guilty at Blackpool to a charge of loitering with criminal intent. He was sentenced to three months with hard labor.

Four days after Santus began to serve his sentence he decided to appeal. Bail was granted but there was a delay in obtaining suitable securities. Santus expected the appeal would be heard at Preston but the appeals committee ruled the appeal could not be heard as he had not secured bail within 21 days of his conviction.

Santus then surrendered himself at Walton jail, Liverpool. But as there was no commitment, he could not be admitted. He offered himself at two police stations. The police also declined to have him.

Now Blackpool's clerks and magistrates are wondering what to do. The clerk explained that although the bail and sureties arrived a day late he had no doubt but to accept them. He also doubts whether he has powers to issue another commitment.

Brings Big Sum

Old Likeness Sold In London For Over £10,000

In the year 1464 or thereabouts a French painter named Jean Fouquet drew on a small piece of paper a swift likeness of a Papal legate who had a hawk nose, full cheeks, and searching eyes.

Just recently the likeness was bought in London for the astounding sum of £10,710 by Lord Dunsen, bidding at Christie's during the third and concluding session of the Henry Oppenheimer sale of oldmaster drawings.

Sample, a Zulu 20 inches high, claims to be the smallest man in the world and says that three-quarters of a yard of cloth is sufficient for a suit for him.

Message From The Dead

Sir Edward Beatty Gets Wire From Major Hell's Bells Rogers

Sir E. W. Beatty, president of the C.P.R., received a message from the dead when he passed through Revelstoke on his return East after an official visit to Vancouver. As he alighted on the station platform, with representatives of the city and Board of Trade in solemn array, the following telegram was handed to him:

"Have nearly completed your blasted railway through mountains and suggest you stop off at Lake Louise to see construction. Can show you better route than Eagle Pass which they say I discovered back in eighties. P.S.—Bring your own raisins as my supply exhausted." (Signed) Major Hell's Bells Rogers.

Sir Edward broke into a laugh as he finished reading the wire and then declared with a stern voice: "I will see Major Hell's Bells Rogers when I get to Lake Louise." The inside of the story is that the message was from Farrell Macdonald who is portraying the role of Rogers in the Gaumont British film "The Great Barrier," scenes of which were being taken in the vicinity of Lake Louise. Major Rogers was the engineer in charge of construction of the first transcontinental railway through the Rockies and it was he who discovered the necessary pass through observing the flight of an eagle.

Sir Edward was considerably amused when he was told that "the head office of the C.P.R. will be transferred from Montreal to Revelstoke for the next few weeks" when board room scenes will be "shot" in the local rink. In these scenes the characters of Van Horne, Stephen, Smith, Shaughnessy, James J. Hill and Sir John A. Macdonald will be depicted as during the trying times of the building of the railway.

New Postage Stamps

Specimen Sets Were Sent To King Edward For Approval

Specimen sets of the designs for the new King Edward VIII. postage stamps were recently submitted to the King for his approval.

The first of the new issue is to be on sale to the public early in 1937.

For weeks experts were engaged in preparing drawings of the proposed new issues, and several new ideas have been incorporated.

Before the specimen sets which were sent to the King and when the Canada geese disappeared a few days ago the Chinese goose was sent out to bring them back. It did, driving them home to the honk of hoarse commands.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

SEPTEMBER 20

CHRISTIAN LIVING

Golden text: Christ liveth in me. Galatians 2:20

Lesson: Romans 12.

Devotional reading: Romans 8: 31-39.

Explanations And Comments

A Call to Consecration for Service, Romans 12:1, 2. The "One Volume Commentary" paraphrases these verses thus: God's redeeming love should be answered by the true sacrifice and the spiritual, ritual service of a life of purity and self-denial and work for God. Do not follow the fashion and customs of the world society around you, but let your ways of thinking be so changed by the Holy Spirit that you look for and recognize God's will and love to do it.

The meaning of these two verses have been aptly expressed by another in these brief words: "In view of all that God has done for us, we should henceforth live for him."

Be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind. "It is amazing what an immense amount of time and money some people will spend in order to change their appearance. But there is another way of transformation, and it is Heaven's way. The transformation begins in the mind. It begins its wonderful work of rejuvenating by completely altering the world of thought, and imagination, and ideal, and fancy, and dreams. It transforms your thoughts of God, and your thoughts of yourself, and your thoughts of others, and your thoughts about everything. Desires and aspirations and judgments—all changed into something which shares the life and likeness of God! And this is to transform life, and at every stage it is to make it beautiful."

Let your love be a real thing, with a loving for evil and a bent for what is good. Put affection into your love for the brotherhood; be forward to honor one another; never let your zeal flag; maintain the spiritual glow (Moffatt's translation). Dr. Robert E. Speer thinks that the word "fervent" does not do justice to the Greek word which Paul uses, which means literally "boiling." Paul's ideal was a man with a hot and burning heart; one with spiritual glow, as Moffatt has it.

Serve the Lord; let your hope be a joy to you; be steadfast in trouble; attend to prayer; contribute to needy saints, make a practice of hospitality. (Moffatt's translation).

Chinese Geese Clever

These Chinese geese are clever. Keepers at Springbank Zoo in London, Ontario, report they have a Chinese goose that keeps all the birds "in order" and when the Canada geese disappeared a few days ago the Chinese goose was sent out to bring them back. It did, driving them home to the honk of hoarse commands.

Wild ostriches can run 50 to 60 miles an hour for short distances.

Win Coveted Award

Two Western Boys Get Free Scholarships In McGill

The coveted award of two free scholarships in McGill University, offered every year by the Canadian Pacific Railway to apprentices and other male employees under 21 years of age, enrolled on the permanent staff of the company, and to minor sons of employees, was announced in Montreal by D. C. Coleman, senior vice-president of the railway.

George Stewart, Assiniboia high school, son of Thomas Stewart, locomotive engineer, Assiniboia, Sask., and Howard Campbell, western Canadian high school, son of Nelson H. Campbell, trainman, Strathcona, Alta., were the winners.

These young men, each of whom is 17 years of age, won the scholarships in competitive examinations against 37 other contestants from all over Canada, Nova Scotia, to British Columbia, and since both of them passed out of school with senior matriculation status, they can enter the university in first year science. They have notified acceptance of the scholarships and shortly commence their studies.

The scholarships cover tuition of four years, on senior matriculation, in the faculty of engineering, with choice of chemical, civil, mechanical or electrical engineering, or five years' tuition in the school of architecture, or four years with the arts division or school of commerce of the faculty of arts and science. The scholarships are renewed from year to year to cover the period, not exceeding five years, if at the close of each session the scholars are entitled to full standing in the next higher year.

May Open New Market

Canada Has Sent Trial Shipment Of Lard To Cuba

In Cuba fried goods are used considerably and there is consequently quite a market for lard. Heretofore the United States has been the chief source of supply, but with the shortage which is looming up in that country, there are possibilities for other exporters.

The good supply of the United States for the balance of 1936 and probably throughout 1936 has been estimated as sufficient only for the home market and not over 70 per cent. of the usual foreign demand. Dealers in Cuba estimate 2,500,000 kilograms of lard will have to be imported during the next year from a market for lard.

The Industrial Department of the Canadian National Railways. Already a trial shipment has been made from Canada while Argentina is also after the market.

Most of the inventions in Britain in the last year were connected with aviation and motoring.

About half a million ounces of gold are consumed each year by dentists in the United States. 2168

Question Is Settled

Scientists Come To Conclusion Animals Have No Souls

Scientists working with delicate apparatus in a Kensington laboratory have settled a question that has caused endless controversy in every part of the world:—

Have animals souls?

Do our pets survive after death?

Dr. Nandor Fodor, an internationally-known psychic research expert, asked Mr. R. J. Hopper, M. B., one of the most brilliant of British physicists, to begin experiments that would answer the question.

Now, after experimenting on mice, birds, frogs and cockroaches, both scientists issue this statement:— There is no evidence that animals have souls or any existence after death.

Argument on the subject suddenly increased when Dr. R. A. Watters, director of the Dr. William Bernhard Johnston Foundation for Psychological Research at Reno, Nevada, started the world with his claim two years ago:

That he had photographed "souls" leaving the bodies of animals killed in a specially-constructed chamber.

His photographs, he said, showed the shadowy "souls" of animals which resembled the physical bodies in shape.

Dr. Nandor Fodor started experiments at the International Institute for Physic Research, Kensington.

"The results," Dr. Nandor Fodor told the Sunday Chronicle recently, "were disappointing. We were unable, despite the most thorough examination, to confirm the American claims which had been hailed by Spiritualists as proof of the existence of survival."

Extending London's Tubes

Whole System Is Planned By Surveyors Above Ground

A $75,000,000 project—the extension of the Central London Underground railway from Liverpool street to Stratford, Leyton, and Newbury—has just been started. Another $125,000,000 is to be spent on straightening and enlarging the existing Central London line which was completed in 1900.

A new underground tunnel is usually built in mile-long tunnels, and so accurate do the big tunnel-builders work today that when these sections meet there is never more than a fraction of an inch difference between them.

This is because the whole system is plotted out above ground. Working at night, the surveyors mark out the route in the streets, with all the necessary twists and turns.

Shafts are sunk at various points and by using a theodolite the engineers down below can strike the exact direction of the lines marked out on the surface.

A great circular shield is used in driving the new tunnel. It has a sharp edge, and is forced along by hydraulic rams. As it moves, men take away the earth through doors in the head of the shield, and the newly cut tunnel is encased in cast-iron rings.

If the tunnel has to go through areas where underground rivers or streams are likely to cause trouble, the work is carried out in compressed air, which keeps the water back.

Compliment For Canada

Has Made Best Progress In Solving Grasshopper Problem

Canada was paid a compliment at the Fourth International Conference on Anti-Locust Research, held at Cairo, Egypt. The conference considered that the formation of the Canadian Committee on Grasshopper Research and its close co-operation with workers in the United States was the type of organization required. It was also shown that the work in Canada has progressed nearer to a solution of the grasshopper problem than in any of the other 24 countries which sent delegates to the Conference.

Left Brief Will

The fate of $5,440,000 was decided by six lines of writing in Melbourne, Australia. The money was the fortune of Mr. Benjamin Nathan, senior partner in a furniture warehouse firm. His will, a six-line document, has now been proved. It divides the money between his two married daughters.

Little Helps For This Week

I made haste, and delayed not to keep Thy commandments. Psalm 119:60.

Never delay To do the duty which the hour brings. Whether it be in great or smaller things; For who doth know What he shall do the coming day?

It is quite impossible that an idle floating spirit can ever look up with clear eyes to God, spreading its miserable anarchy before the symmetry of the creative Mind. In the midst of a disorderly being that has neither centre or circumference, kneeling before the glorious sky that everywhere has both, and for a life that is all failure turning to the Lord of the silent stars, of whose thought it is that "not one faileth." The heavens with their everlasting faithfulness look down on no sadder contradiction than the sluggish and careless in their prayers.

Collected Rare Alpine Plants

Naturalists Return To Victoria After 3,000-Mile Trip

After collecting 20,000 rare Alpine plants, Ed. and Joe Lohrbrunner, Victorian naturalists, came back to civilization after a 3,000-mile trip on the fringe of the Arctic.

"It's difficult to say what a rare plant is," Joe Lohrbrunner, said. "Where we were these plants are plentiful but they are rare down here."

On the Ogilvie range on the border of Alaska and the Yukon Territory, the Lohrbrunners waded through Rhododendrons—millions of them as far as the eye could see. There they found what they believe to be new species of ferns.

On their return trip the brothers arrived at Valdez, Alaska, and tried to book passages on the boat but found the ship was full. The next two boats were also booked up.

"We had to get out of the country somehow," Joe Lohrbrunner said, "so we stowed away."

The expedition was financed by prominent British and United States naturalists.

Giant Arum Lily Attracts Crowds To Holland Hothouse

A giant arum lily, eight feet high and three and a half feet across is attracting crowds to the hothouse of the Agricultural High School at Wageningen, in Holland. It is growing from a bulb that weighs six stone four pounds. The lily, which is from the tropics, seldom blossoms. The flower lasts only two days. It blossomed the first time in July, 1932, and is the only specimen in Europe.

Thou Shalt Not Love

— A NOVEL BY —
GEORGIA GRAIG

I told myself, then that if I saw you again that it would be a sign to me that at last I had found the girl I wanted. Heaven knows I've turned the town upside down, looking for somebody who could look the part, as well as act it. When I saw you again tonight—well, you know what I said—Three times and out! I guess you didn't understand." He leaned over and looked her straight in the eyes. "I don't know who you are, nor anything about you except for the essential things I asked you. I don't want to know anything else. The past is gone. Your life begins this minute."

"You want to play—to be envied; loved. . . I'll make you the talk of the town—do a better press agent job than any movie actress ever heard of. It's a natural. You'll start out with an advantage no alien in history ever had. Your reputation is already made for you! All you'll have to do is live up to it! It won't be with a Broadway background, either. It will be among the 'best people' in town, those with whom you'll mingle, on whom you'll cast your spell. Your every wish shall be realized. You are beautiful— which of course you know. I'll provide the clothes and all the stage scenery. Every woman in town will be envious of you; every man will want to make love to you. Play up to it. Play!"

He paused to let his words sink in. To Starr it was still all part of that unreal dream she was sure was not yet finished. But he looked real enough. His voice was no figment of her imagination, his earnestness sincere. He pressed his advantage, seeing her quiescence.

RHEUMATISM

—often results from clogged and inflamed kidneys allowing acid toxins to get into your blood. Take GIN PILLS to drive out these pain-causing impurities and soothe and strengthen your kidneys.

"All I ask is that you keep your name in the headlines—not of course with any remotest connection of a Starr Ellison that was. That girl dead from this minute on—dead and buried. A new one, the famous, or infamous author, has arisen in her place." He could not, or would not, see the stricken look in Starr's eyes as he made his emphasis, nor could Starr know of the choke in her throat that kept her from crying out. "Dead and buried"—he had said. . . He was interested only in his own scheming. "Starr Ellison, the author, must be kept on the front page, if possible, right from the go-off. I don't care how. It won't matter. What will be of account will be that every mention you get will increase the sales of the book. You'll make a fortune for me—and I will pay you accordingly."

He stopped and studied her a moment more, nodded his satisfaction. "Yes, you look the type all right—knew it from the start—with those mysterious eyes of yours and all. . . We'll have to cook up some kind of story—you gave me an idea with those few words of Arab gab of yours—a small matter—leave all that to me. The important thing is that you grasp your role. If you haven't by any chance read the book I'll tell you that my 'Play-Girl' is a bold, devil-may-care, social-climbing, without emotion, without a soul! Do you understand? Do you think you can live the part?"

Could she? Dared she try? Oh, yes, she understood, and the understanding was rather staggering. The bold, devil-may-care, social-climbing Michael Fairbourne was ashamed of the book he had authored. He wanted to hide behind the skirts of a woman—so that his precious royalties could go on!

Starr was to help him make a fortune so that he could marry the proud Stephanie. She was to sacrifice her own personality—he didn't care the flick of a wrist about it; he had said so in no unmistakable terms. She was to quit being the Starr Ellison she had known for almost twenty-three years and allow herself to evolve into a glamorous fiction character, a creation of the brilliant mind of Michael Fairbourne! Who was ashamed of it.

She flung up her head proudly, in that gesture her father had so often likened to the disdainful haughtiness of his beloved ancient Egyptian princess. She wanted to tell him—so many things. Then she wilted. The realization of everything came back to her; things she had forgotten; the six months of life—Tut-Amen-Ra—Amen-Sun.

Michael Fairbourne wanted her to do this thing. Well, why not? Six months of life, after all, were all she had left. She would have no future in which to harbor any lingering regrets. She had rallied against the fate which condemned her to be a drab, falling star. This man was giving her the chance to flash through those last six months, a flaming meteor. It could be! But an answer to her defiance of the Egyptian gods and their curses.

To do as he asked meant that she could drink deep of the gay wine of life. In her few months she could crowd in a lifetime of thrills. Defy grim destiny in a reckless round of pleasure. Surely she had the right to do that, she who was doomed?

A strange excitement possessed her suddenly. Her cameo features glowed. She said, impulsively: "I can do it!"

Michael's hand came across the table. A big warm hand clasping her cold small one to seal their bargain. She lifted her lazees to look at him out of her long, mysterious eyes. It didn't seem just exactly right. She must make some protest. After all, if they were to be so intimately associated, would it not be better if she confessed to him—a few things. She said softly:

"But after all, we're strangers. . . Why should we trust one another—so far? You know nothing of me. . ."

He flung up his head, smiled enigmatically, but the hardness in his tone was not so noticeable. "I thought we'd passed that. But what does it matter? Strangers—yes, perhaps. But do any of us ever truly know each other? Even after we've lived in close companionship all our lives? Aren't we lonely souls—all of us? Strangers?"

The one brief glimpse he allowed her into his inner mind passed instantly. Once again he was the coldly calculating business man. He mentioned then, as though it were an afterthought: "It's only fair to tell you that the job won't last forever. It may not last long at all. That's rather up to you—and to me, I suppose, as your manager-press agent. Public fancy is fickle. You will be 'Play-Girl' only as long as people are interested in the book. It may possibly be but a few months. Then you will have to go back—wherever you came from."

A dagger of ice stabbed at Starr's heart. Her great black eyes assumed that wistful, haunting expression, that suggestion as of looking upon things remote and unearthly, which was part of her greatest beauty.

She murmured as though to herself: "A few months will be—enough."

CHAPTER VI.

"We've got to have a background for you," Michael had said, not in the least interested that Starr might have a perfectly good one, ready-made. And so he proceeded to furnish her with one which would have made an excellent plot for some other book he might some day write. Which suited Starr excellently. In this new role she didn't want to be reminded of the Starr Ellison of tragic days nor would she have cared to be identified back in her New England home town with the Starr Ellison who was the notorious "Play-Girl."

She entered into all Michael's schemes enthusiastically, surprised at herself that she no longer shrank from all his talk about Egypt and Egyptian things. Her communion with the priestesses on a vase in the Museum had done that. In fact, she rather welcomed the idea of having Egypt recalled in every way, much as a wound can be temporarily eased by the anaesthesia of further wounding.

It was Michael's idea to say she had come from Cairo. There was to be considerable mystery about just who she was, but he would see to it that there were rumors spread of her being the daughter of an American soldier of fortune and an Egyptian mother whose ancient and distinguished ancestry could be traced back to princesses of Cleopatra's day. "You see," Michael explained, "it would all work out splendidly—with those eyes of yours and your mysterious air, to say nothing of those few words of Arabic you've picked up, though God knows where. Besides Cairo's so far away no one can investigate and find out anything at all. . ."

At Vimy Ridge

The London Sunday Express says when the Canadians came first to France, shocked and many of them with the speech of France on their lips, French people felt almost that another France had leaped to their aid. Now the Canadians, who stood under the noble memorial on Vimy Ridge, realize that there is another France on the soil of France, but Canadian for ever by the purchase of blood and courage.

Cohen and his wife had been dining out. When he was handed the bill, Cohen scrutinized it closely, and said to the manager: "I say, you've charged us for dessert. We never touched it."

"But," explained the manager, "regardless of whether you ate it or not, it was there for you."

"There you are," remarked Cohen as he handed over the money in payment of the bill.

The manager counted the money and discovered that it was five shillings short. Upon being informed of the deficit, Cohen replied: "That was for kissing my wife."

"Absurd!" said the manager: "I didn't kiss your wife."

"Dot's your own fault," concluded Cohen, as he walked out: "She was there, wasn't she?"

THREE GATES

If you are tempted to reveal A tale someone to you has told About another, make it pass, Before you speak, three gates of gold. Three narrow gates—first, "Is it true?"

Then, "Is it useful?" In your mind Give truthful answer; and the next Is last and narrowest, "Is it kind?" And if, to reach your lips at last, It pass through these gateways thrice, Then you may tell the tale, nor fear What the result of speech may be.

Turning His Back

An efficiency expert was called in to give "the once over" to an old-established business. The first thing he encountered, as he was being shown round by the manager, was a file of seven workers, of whom the first six were pushing barrows, while the seventh was pulling his barrow behind him.

The expert stopped him: "Do you mind telling me, my man, why you are pulling that barrow when your comrades are all pushing theirs?" "Because I'm fed up with the sight of it," he replied, and proceeded on his way.—El Paso World Herald.

The Hint

"To what do you attribute your start on the road to success?" The self-made man pondered. "I think," he said, "it must have been the fact that when I was an office boy I laughed louder than any of the other boys at the manager's jokes."—Pearson's.
